

The ARCHITECTS of DESTINY

PODCAST

EPISODE 17: New Earth Education with Special Guest, Gaby Kowalski

GABY KOWALSKI: Today we're talking about a completely different subject from the opening episode because we want to talk about children education in the New Earth.

Magic School For Kids And Teens is a beautiful free, online platform for kids and teens over all this gorgeous planet to be able to come and receive from teachers, coaches, mentors, all over the world who run classes to support them in their mental awareness to master their relationship with their mind, emotional body, physical body, and spiritual ascension, and quantum ascension.

What this is serving to do is to create a beautiful library of light. Imagine when I was growing up, there are public libraries and you could just walk in a public library for free, with all these books there. It probably still exists but we just don't use them because there is the internet. Here, we're running online classes where people are contributing, recording as well. We're building a membership site, so it will be an online library of light. Kids will have access whatever stage they're at to be able to live a sovereign and free light. Kind of funny to be an emotional, spiritual evolution space for every 20 years. Every time there is a common message. Now, we're making it possible, 10, 20 years from now these kids grow up, imagine the conversations, lurking in consciousness. Understanding adults learning will be given to kids because they are ready for it. That's Magic School For Kids And Teens.

RIYA LOVEGUARD: That's amazing, long awaited by many people awakened. But before we go into details of the project itself, I want to know Gaby, where did the idea of germinated. There is a lot of talk in the spiritual community "I wish I had known this as a kid," there's one thing in talking, and another thing in actually making it happen. What prompted you? In fact, you are teaching for business, adult classes?

GABY KOWALSKI: There's magic school for adults too.

RIYA LOVEGUARD: How did you come up the idea of magic school for children?

GABY KOWALSKI: It's literally something that has been transitioning for over 20 years. I love this too because 20 years ago, I had a dream, as a teenager, I loved the theater. I loved it so much that I created a theater company. The vision I had back then was to take the classics, like Hans Christian Anderson, the Grimm Brothers, read their stories, rework them, make them a little bit funnier and have a theater travel company for kids going to school. Basically, instilling values, moral, and heart to children because it felt like...

If we get the kids to open their heart, then when they grow up, they treat everybody else with kindness and compassion which seems to be a logical idea to make a difference in the world. Yet back then when I attempted to do this, getting involved with charities organizations, do puppets and puppet shows for cancer kids. Personally, back then, I did not know how to get these off the ground. How to get the schools to say yes, I didn't have the intelligence to be able to build something like this. I had the skills, I could story tell, I could perform, I had the passion, yet I just did not have the business skills. And then my path went into business and sales, and deeply into quantum work.

I had a car accident. My body was pretty messed up, my spine was very twisted and every expert kind of told me that I wouldn't be able to find a solution, that my case was too severe. I just did not want to give up the fact that there is a solution to fix me. And I came across this man in the mountain which made quantum work on me and fully aligned me again. I studied quantum stuff for 3 years. And so here I was, with this desire to make a difference. I had all this knowledge of the quantum and business, combining them all. And throughout the years I promised myself if I can something, if I could actually create something for kids.

Because here's the truth, kids don't have money. It's not that easy to build a product range or do something like this for children cause you have to go to the parents who got to pay for it. Something in this felt like it did not want to be within its structure. Something within this idea wanted to be different, a library of light for children that do not need to pay for it like something that is a part of their day-to-day system like libraries, public libraries.

Over the years especially in the last 5 years, I have been talking about stuff for kids as long as I could remember. There are also friends that came in. I had a friend of mine years ago, that said yes, let's build a platform that would have books, would have this and that. Somehow, we just did not do it. Then there was another friend, who has an insight to do an online platform, and I said that me too, I was dreaming about that for ages. With that friend, it did not align.

Last year, it ignited me in my field, that it was time. The infrastructure is there, we already know how, we already built something. We are holding this legacy grid. We are not looking only at next year, and next year, we are literally looking at the end of our life and beyond, 2000 years from now when this version of us is no longer here on the planet. How did we restructure our universe and to look at it so long term? It's great to have that, that's my answer.

RIYA LOVEGUARD: That's a beautiful take, I kind of figured that too, one of my visions in life and dreams is to help stray dogs and prevent cruelty and suffering of animals. At this time I'm not a builder of a center to help these dogs but I contribute to charities that are absolutely excellent in providing that. I feed 5 stray cats.

GABY KOWALSKI: I kind of have a rescue center at home, I get these strays with me.

RIYA LOVEGUARD: And here they are, they can't say no to me. It's like a microcosm but the vibration's the same. The frequency or the energy whether you're the head of some kind of foundation or contributing is pretty much the same. It is just giving an open heart.

GABY KOWALSKI: I agree so much, so so so much. Imagine if a hundred and fifty volunteered to come and teach and run classes for kids. When I was first talking about this, they would like to get involved. Something ignited in their little heart. Imagine if those 150 volunteers would have their own school for kids. I value every single person on my team, and I create with. There is no hierarchy if everyone gathers in a table. No one is more important, we are equally important. It's germane too me, every single one of us. Passion can be expressed in many different ways. If anyone is listening this is an invitation of letting go of those templates or ways of thinking that we have to have our own thing. We still need people to support us. Our own things are not our own anyway. Ria and I were talking about this before because she's also a contributor of magic school for adults and she teaches language. She's a part of the team, these other people involved in the curriculum, we co-create this together. To remind the world we are one.

RIYA LOVEGUARD: I feel like for other adult listeners this will be great lessons, fun lessons, one word you use a lot is the word play and playground. It almost is a childlike frequency. We are conditioned to kind of lose it. I want to hear from you how does the frequency of play change? Perhaps if someone along the way lost it? Can it be reignited? Have you always been a playful, fun person? Or you lost it along the way and reignited it?

GABY KOWALSKI: Truth be told, I have not lost it, so I don't know how to find it. I feel like this is also why I am so passionate about playing. I always loved kids because they say yes to any idea. I say let's play cake face, we get a cake stick our faces to it and we go, cake face! And they say yes, and everyone is always having fun.

Personally, the group of friends I have, my family, people I resonate with, I love the most, can still play. If I'm looking to date a man, if they don't have this energy, they feel really old to me. The inner child within me wants to be with people that never abandoned their imagination.

I believe this is one of the keys of living a delicious life. This is part of joy frequency; a profoundly high frequency of existence. Within it there's love, presence, so many different things. I believe the reason I live an abundant love is because I manifest resources, but because I have the frequency of play. I believe that the frequency of high realm resources like money and time would like to play with me because we do things together.

Everything makes sense to me. That birth reality is literally beaming out, we could be someone with play frequency who will have a great day and experience with that with no play frequency.

One of my intentions for magic school teens is to welcome, invite, every single one of them to keep the light inside of them. To learn how to harness this light even more. Generally, many of these kids have no lessons to play within them, and to see it as a portal to their highest soul, aspect of themselves. A lot of times, they've been told to not to, to grow up. People want to protect their kids, not get hurt, but imagine a world where everyone can resourcefully play in but still is responsible. I got here because I was responsible. But play has been linked to irresponsibility, or selfishness. In a lower consciousness level, yes you could play and destroy. While in a high consciousness level, when you play, you create. Imagine the kids growing up knowing that inside of them is one of the greatest gifts they have. Start playing with the inner child, everyone's got one. Do something for and with the inner child everyday. Before you know it, we actually blend, we become one, we unify all aspects of our ourselves. Our inner child is always in there in a good way. What about you? I'm curious, because you got all lots of play.

RIYA LOVEGUARD: I never lost it, and same with my husband. If some grownups have jokes, we exchange them. I like the idea that play creates this feeling of ease which is quite the opposite in the business world. We are being told that without hard work you do not achieve anything. It's like you expect that thing should be hard rather than easy and fun. It blocks a lot of people. This self-created pressure.

Even if I had not lost play, I have to program myself, because there is a drive, to my detriment. After this play, it's actually letting go with ease. I find also in the quantum playground, playground for consciousness, people are blocked by seriousness, and they are expecting for things to be hard and not easy. People say I'm making it up, it's just my imagination. Actually, your imagination is the exact same kind of instrument when you're communicating with your soul, when you're exploring a new dimension. By all means, if we can get kids not to lose it, yeah. There is no hierarchy in kids and teens. I know you have this kind of totalitarian outlook, which I think is rare in the spiritual community.

There is no hierarchy. There's another aspect of hierarchy, we sometimes as adults treat kids as if we need to teach them when sometimes they actually teach us. I just want to ask you how do you feel in the education of New Earth? With so many children coming unto this planet earth with fully blown quantum qualities, they find it easy using quantum energy. How do you see education evolving to get out of this hierarchy, in teaching them to be good members in society?

GABY KOWALSKI:

That's a big question and there's kind of layers to it. First up, thank you for saying that. Every single one of us has a template, reason why we are here anchoring in different frequencies. Those frequencies if somebody want to play with them co-creates different universes. One of the pieces for me is inviting people in the universe that doesn't use hierarchal templates. That doesn't mean we are disrespectful. Some people when they step on a playground with no hierarchy they can actually find it getting to their head. It is interesting to see consciousness navigate to a different world, yet children on it receive pure templates of unity.

People do not know how to give them an equal platform. Kids can do these to. If you give them a reason as to why hierarchal templates are used in this planet with kids is because people do not know how to give them an equal platform without going into their heads. Would you agree? There's also this consciousness, reprogramming of ways of humanities for kids to receive purity to come into a place of oneness, and when they do, what they got to give is beyond imagining.

There are already kids who have these 3D templates, a beautiful humility, the ego has evolved. Those kids are kids to teach. In Magic School For Kids And Teens we have kids teaching. The kids within the school would reach out to us to teach. This is awesome. Some have profound things to share. We are also going to do an annual kind of fun festival showcases where kids are invited to come to showcase songs, dance. Kids will be invited to come and play, express their soul essence, some are gonna come in to teach something. It's gonna be awesome, a few days with kids. Why I shared this, to me allowing integration, inviting kids to be comfortable to sharing. It is in this platform, welcoming, there will be specific classes that I am personally delivering to allow heart consciousness activation, energy for them to be really to anchor this. We of course, the volunteers, it's a community. Kids get to sit on the table. It's not like we're on the table and they're out you know. Because of that inside our platform, we volunteers are downloading what to share, we are working with this quantum together. If some of the kids come in and require some stuff, volunteers will receive an inspiration. Such is co-creation, which means, they are co-creating anyway. For me the future though is very quantum. We live in a different expressions in one where we get full quantum access with no differentiation which means that quantum reality and physical reality are one. There is no hierarchy either. They are both beautifully divine expression of consciousness.

As a result, kids, and even adults, when they embody quantum intelligence and have quantum access, know how to integrate it, we learn from the quantum a lot. The kids are also going to be encouraged in this platform to practice this. One of the pieces I will share as a contributor is supporting. In the future, it may seem weird, I would be running quantum classes with the kids, I would not be on zoom, they would literally be in the quantum and the kids would join me. There will also be different versions of me in the quantum, running different quantum classes with the kids while I'm doing something else physically. I know that will be a little too quantum now.

To me, it's this, we get to play, that is the future. These kids are also taught to receive and light up the quantum, and to be able to discern the quantum in full alignment for them and to be able to navigate it, no different from how we navigate physical existence. We know not to jump off the cliff. I love these because we're going to have classes. There are a lot of levels to this, to me I really do believe it's holistic, it's not just quantum access. People out there with quantum access but their consciousness level is stuck at hierarchy and scarcity, in fear. It doesn't matter if you have quantum ascension when your consciousness is literally having a hard time. That's not ascension. Ascension for me is harmonized, when our emotions are enjoined, our mindset is enjoined, our physical body is enjoined, and we have quantum access. What we can build with that is truly a New Earth, anchor and stabilize realities, the golden age of existence, it's how it happens. Do you resonate? Does that resonate with you?

RIYA LOVEGUARD: That's really a beautiful vision. Can you see this, what you are creating, a quantum school for kids, also a physical school? A vision of what globally, the education system would look like in the new world. How do you see schools in the reality that we're building?

GABY KOWALSKI: The way we are launching right now is specifically a support of consciousness or ascending consciousness, more accurately, for this school. Yet, I've seen with these timelines, people will actually build infrastructures for teaching kids how to read and write and do other things that doesn't necessarily lead to spiritual and quantum consciousness. And I see that coming together.

We are both unique coming together. I have my own structure, you your own structure. So I see us all in different pieces coming together and creating, this is the legacy part of it. There will be other people, volunteers, that will be doing something. As everything stabilizes, some of them will stay and combine. We tell the kids that if you want to receive, there's an opportunity to be homeschooled online. I'm not sure about the physical structure right now because all I can see is the online structure, yet I love physical structure. I also see timelines in the future where we don't use internet anymore, but our own interconnection. Internet in a way is kind of like an expression of possible in the quantum, however it's technology. I see us shifting to the quantum, there is a precision you know. If you kind of think like quantum baseball you know.

RIYA LOVEGUARD: Whenever we say what quantum consciousness looks like, they say it's the cloud, the internet. We have a lot of collective unconscious here on earth rather than collective conscious. By all means, I can see us evolving from that, having a path of evolution. It's a matter of time really. Gabby, Thank you so much for this conversation. When is the school launching?

GABY KOWALSKI: Right now we are taking up enrollments, we have around 300 now which is really exciting. Orientation classes begin next week. There is a panel for parents and guardians to support, because they have ascending children. We're going to have a support in place with them.

Next week we're going to have 2 orientation classes, one for guardians, one for kids. I'll personally be running the orientation classes for kids and teens. I would be in the board for the parents and guardians but I will not do much of the talking. The panel will.

This literally what came through. I wanna give them all th logistics. There will be a ceremony where kids and teens of magic school will literally receive their own soul wand, quantum wand, unique for everyone. There will be classes, where they will be show how to co-create, how to literally work, everyone, slightly differently their own unique soul codex. Isn't it cool?

I really know there are a lot of parents, "why a wand?" If you are a parent with the inner child in you, this is a place for you to co-create with the kids. When the kids are doing something, they enter your world, stabilizing their own essence. We open parents and guardians to unlock that light within themselves. Some will probably geek out in the classes, probably you know as much as the kids.

Orientation starts next week. Our live classes start on April and we're stabilizing everything. The membership portal will be available on April. We'll be adding stuff in the membership site, we have contributors sharing stuff. Every month the recordings of every classes stack up. I see 2 years from now we have 40,000 plus people, kids and teens inside the school. It will grow and grow.

Yeah, so jump in! Enroll, receive, feel the frequency of it, join us. If you want to volunteer, there is a link for you. We've got stuff for every age. There will be transmissions from 0 to 4 years of age, we've got amazing people who have opera light language kind of transmission, sound based transmission for the baby in the room, for the little kids, support them to activate their soul frequency and heart consciousness. Really beautiful sound based teaching. Sound is one of the most powerful communicators in the universe, including colors, and light, and stuff.

We have classes for different age groups 4-6, 7-9, 10-12, 13-18, and there's classes for everyone. We are inviting all the kids and teenagers to also receive beyond their age group, because of unifying things. Yes, there will be classes shared for specific age groups, for there are different topics we navigate. Teenagers have no clue what to do. There will be specific kinds designed. Most of the content are relatable to everyone. Yes, there will be classes that will be adjusted so in the membership site there will be tabs for everyone. Just get in there and have access to all the beautiful things.

RIYA LOVEGUARD: One final question. If someone is listening to this recording months ahead or months after we recorded this, can they enroll anytime or are there special intakes?

GABY KOWALSKI: It's a walk-in library where you can walk. The difference is the orientation we are doing at the end of this month, when you enroll, when you go to the membership site there will be a box saying welcome, watch this first. You first receive the orientation and then you navigate, there will be a digital schedule in the membership site. You can see what classes are on, you can even jump in and so on. There will be tabs based on the age groups, you just go on the age group.

The other thing to know is that all the transitions are time key coded. There is a technology that I work with which is time key coded. We time key code so when you're watching the transmissions inside the membership, portal of light, you actually quantumly teleport to the exact time of the quantum now where it is delivered real time, therefore, all the frequency, the living essence of that transmission. Everything exists in our beautiful amazing universe. So as you watch the orientation, you are literally there with us.

Next week as I'm doing the orientation, I might have 200 kids all over the world. When I do this, I know I will be feeling thousands of souls with me because of all the kids listening to me in quantum time of the future. I just put a smile on my face.

RIYA LOVEGUARD: That is beautiful. Guys check out the link for Magic School For Kids And Teens. I also request if you are listening to this podcast, share it to another parent, guardian, or teenage kid with interest. Pay it forward. It will surely go back to us. More kids would get quantum access, get to never lose their play frequency.

GABY KOWALSKI: Thank you for everyone who listened and watch. It's such a good time to be alive. Thank you Riya. That was super fun.
